

SUPPLEMENTARY MATERIAL:
New avian breeding records for Kugluktuk, Nunavut
MYLES M. LAMONT

FIGURE S1. Female American Wigeon (Anas americana) with young brood on a small pond near Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S2. Female Mallard (Anas platyrhynchos) with duckling at edge of small pond near Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S3. Northern Shoveler (Anas clypeata) nest found in a sedge meadow near Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S4. Green-winged Teal (Anas carolinensis) duckling near Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S5. Greater Scaup (Aythya marila) nest in a sedge meadow near Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S6. Say's Phoebe (Sayornis saya) nest under rock overhang near Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S7. Juvenile Canada Jay (Perisoreus canadensis) near Melville Creek south of Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S8. Recently fledged Grey-cheeked Thrush (Catharus minimus) near Melville Creek, south of Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S9. Male Yellow-rumped Warbler (Setophaga coronata) with recently fledged juvenile, Kugluk/Bloody Falls Territorial Park south of Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S10. Dark-eyed Junco (Junco hyemalis) carrying insects near Melville Creek, south of Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S11. Bohemian Waxwing (Junco hyemalis) seen within the hamlet of Kugluktuk in June 2018. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.

FIGURE S12. A male Pine Grosbeak (Pinicola enucleator) singing near Melville Creek, south of Kugluktuk. Photo: Myles M. Lamont.